

Class Muddiest-Point Pool

Bladder & Kidney Channels – Week 5

A shared template for pooling the class's Section E answers

Your Prep Guide's Section E (Points of Confusion) works within a pair. This template scales the same idea to the whole cohort: everyone's muddiest points land in one place BEFORE lecture, so interteaching groups — and Dr. Zhang, if shared with her — can see where the class is actually stuck, not just where any one pair is stuck.

How to Use This

1. Before lecture

Each student fills their own row on the four pages that follow — one page per prompt category, matching Section E of the Prep Guide.

2. Compile

Whoever's running the pool (a designated student, TA, or Dr. Zhang) collects everyone's entries — print copies handed in, or transcribed into a shared doc/spreadsheet using this same 4-column layout.

3. In class

Interteaching groups are formed around clusters of shared confusion, not just random pairs — the whole point of pooling first.

4. This template resets every week

Copy the blank version fresh for each new channel set; don't try to reuse one sheet across weeks.

This is a coordination template, not a substitute for a live shared doc — print/handwrite it, or recreate the same 4 columns in Google Sheets / a class Slack channel if that's easier to pool.

Pool 1 – Pathway Confusion

Section E prompt 1: the single most confusing pathway detail this week.

Name	Muddiest point (be specific: "I don't understand X because Y")	Resolved in class?
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐

Pool 2 — Point-Category Confusion

Section E prompt 2: the single most confusing point-category / special-points detail this week.

Name	Muddiest point (be specific: "I don't understand X because Y")	Resolved in class?
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐

Pool 3 — Clinical Application Confusion

Section E prompt 3: a clinical application still not confidently understood.

Name	Muddiest point (be specific: "I don't understand X because Y")	Resolved in class?
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐

Pool 4 — Open Questions for Lecture

Section E prompt 4: a specific question to bring to Dr. Zhang.

Name	Muddiest point (be specific: "I don't understand X because Y")	Resolved in class?
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐
		☐