WHAT DR. ZHANG SAID (VERBATIM-SOURCED)

30 questions total	Confirmed verbally in the Week 9 live class when a student asked directly: "how many questions we have in final exam" -> "30 questions."
Cumulative, reuses quiz material	Per Week 6: "the final exam mentions all the questions, including in the final examination, [are] concerns from each quiz, not new question." The final draws from Quiz 1-6 content directly -- review EVERY quiz you've taken, not just lecture notes.
No new content Week 9->10	Week 9 had no new quiz or homework -- it was 100% review. Week 10 is the final exam itself. Homework 5 must be submitted before the final or the grade cannot be entered.
Review = pathways, not divergent/collateral detail	Direct quote, Week 9: a student asked whether the final "will include the last week and this week's lecture regarding collaterals and divergent points" -- Dr. Zhang answered "No, no. In the review part, all the content included in the review part, we will not tell you about the divergent and collaterals." Muscle Regions and Cutaneous Regions were also not part of her review slides. Know the concepts, but they are LOW-YIELD for the final vs. primary pathways.
Her review slides emphasized	(1) All 12 primary meridian pathways -- start point, end point, direction, pertaining organ, connecting organ, and the region(s) each crosses (ear, nose, eye, genitals, tongue). (2) The three Circuits (Anterior/Outer, Posterior/Inner, Middle) and their sequence. (3) Five Shu (Transport) Points -- full master table, all 12 meridians. (4) Eight Confluent Points and their Extraordinary Vessel pairings. (5) The Eight Extraordinary Vessels themselves (started via their confluent points, e.g. "Yin Chao and Yang Chao [start] at BL62 and KI6").
Clinical evidence content is NOT exam material	The PCOS/PMOS acupuncture protocol, the JAMA urinary incontinence RCT, and the EMMA robotic-massage pilot data were presented as clinical context/enrichment, separate from "the review for the final examination" segment -- do not spend final-prep time memorizing these numbers.
"If you understand the slides, you can pass the final exam very easily."	Dr. Zhang's own closing framing of the Week 9 review lecture -- her review deck (not the raw transcript detail) is the single best final-prep source, supplemented by re-drilling each week's Quiz Kit.

EXAM TRAPS -- READ THIS PAGE LAST

Naming convention	3 parts only: Hand/Foot + Yin/Yang + Zang/Fu (e.g. "Hand Taiyin Lung"). Element (Metal, Earth...) is a SEPARATE Five-Phase classification, not part of the formal channel name.
Point-count doesn't track Yin/Yang	LI (20) > LU (11); SI (19) > HT (9) -- the Yang/Fu partner almost always has more points than its Yin/Zang pair, even though it's the "lesser" organ in Zang-Fu theory.
ST begins at LI20, not ST1	ST1 (Chengqi) is only the first NUMBERED point on the channel -- the true pathway origin is LI20 Yingxiang on the face, a crossing point of the LI channel.
UPPER vs LOWER teeth/gums	UPPER teeth/gums = ST channel. LOWER teeth/gums = LI channel. A classic Dr. Zhang exam distinction.
ST25 vs CV12 Front-Mu	ST25 (Tianshu) = Front-Mu of LARGE INTESTINE. CV12 (Zhongwan) = Front-Mu of STOMACH. These sit on completely different channels.
Only ST passes through the nipple	ST17 Ruzhong = center of nipple -- landmark ONLY, never needled.
SP is the ONLY channel on the LOWER surface of the tongue	KI reaches the ROOT of the tongue; SP spreads over its lower surface -- do not conflate the two tongue relationships.
SP's 8-cun crossover	The ONLY distribution exception among all 12 meridians: below 8 cun above the medial malleolus, SP runs POSTERIOR to LR; above 8 cun, SP moves ANTERIOR (crosses in front of LR).
Forbidden-in-pregnancy points	LI4 Hegu, SP6 Sanyinjiao, BL60 Kunlun (promotes labor), BL67 Zhiyin (malposition correction via MOXA only, needle contraindicated).
Circuit hand-offs (Outer)	LU->LI at LI1 (fingers). LI->ST at LI20 (face). ST->SP at SP1/ST42 (toe). SP->HT internally (chest) -- opens the Inner/Posterior Circuit.
BL does NOT connect to Lung	BL's only internal connection is Kidney. Do not confuse with the Metal pathway.
BL's two back lines run simultaneously	NOT a sequential up-down loop -- Dr. Zhang confirmed directly in Q&A: both the 1.5-cun and 3-cun parallel lines run "at the same time."
BL7 vs GV20	BL7 Tongtian is NOT the vertex-joining point -- that is GV20 Baihui, which BL merely joins at the vertex.
Heel pain -> think Kidney first	Dr. Zhang's explicit clinical teaching point -- the KI pathway curves directly behind the medial malleolus and through the heel.
KI3 vs KI7	KI3 Taixi = Shu-Stream AND Yuan-Source (dual role), in the malleolus/Achilles depression. KI7 Fuliu = Jing-River only, 2 cun proximal, anterior to the Achilles tendon.
PC and HT are the ONLY 2 primary channels with zero crossing points.	An easy paired exam trap.
Confluent point pairings never mix elements	SI3+BL62 (both Yang, posterior); LU7+KI6 (mixed but classic Yin pairing); SP4+PC6 (both Yin, most clinically used); GB41+SJ5 (both Yang, lateral body).
Yuan-Source rule by polarity	On YIN channels, Yuan-Source = the Shu-Stream point (same point, dual role). On YANG channels, Yuan-Source is a separate 6th point beyond the 5 Shu points.
ST36 is He-Sea + Command Abdomen, NOT Yuan-Source.	ST's actual Yuan-Source is ST42 Chongyang -- don't let ST36's fame as "#1 tonic point" cause you to misassign it.
GB crossing points: 12 across 6 meridians	SJ, LR, PC, SI, ST, GV -- includes Yifeng SJ17, Jiaosun SJ20, Erheliao SJ22, Dadun LR1, Zhangmen LR13, Tianchi PC1, Bingfeng SI12, Tianrong SI17, Tinggong SI19, Xiaguan ST7, Touwei ST8, Dazhui GV14.
Extraordinary Vessels have NO pertaining/connecting organs.	Unlike the 12 primary meridians, the 8 EVs run superficially and do not pertain to or connect with internal Zang-Fu organs directly.
Yang Qiao / Yin Qiao "start" at their confluent points.	BL62 (Yang Qiao) and KI6 (Yin Qiao) -- Dr. Zhang repeated this exact fact live in the Week 9 review as a quiz-recycled item.
